Dear Air Board:

I am writing to express my full support for the Potomac River Generating Station. If this plant closes down we are going to have some power challenges in the future. Mirant has proposed a stack merge project that would improve the quality of air, by reducing emissions being put into it. They have even agreed to pay for the entire project, at no expense to the taxpayers.

I work in the department of the Army. I have lived in Virginia for the past three years. I will continue to support the Potomac River Generating Station, because I believe that Mirant can improve the air quality by stack merging. Also, if the plant were to close, people would be out of jobs as well.

City Council needs to wise up and see what they are doing. The plant is very much needed. It's important to support the improvements that Mirant Power is trying to make instead of wasting taxpayers money to fight against it. It's time to make some changes.

Yours truly,

Alan Lee
